BCS at the REA Organics Conference 2025

BCS is pleased to announce that we will be attending the REA Organics 2025 conference tomorrow at the Delta Nottingham Belfry Hotel, organised by the Association for Renewable Energy & Clean Technology (REA). This event will bring together industry experts, regulators, and key stakeholders to discuss the future of organic waste recycling.

As a crucial date in the sector's calendar, the conference will cover regulatory changes, sustainability in organics, and market developments. BCS will be on hand to engage with scheme participants, answer questions about certification, and discuss the upcoming Interim Resource Framework. A member of the BCS team will also be chairing a discussion. The session, chaired by Duncan Craig, will include talks by Simon Blackhurst on Organics to Horticulture, Sarah Wynn on Harmonisation of Carbon Accounting Tools, and Joe Epicheff on Nutrient Recovery in the Organic Waste Sector. If you're attending, we encourage you to connect with us.

Upcoming BCS Operators' Forum

The first BCS Forum of 2025 is coming up - Save the Date

The next meeting of the BCS Operators' Forum will take place online on:
Wednesday, 21st May 11:00 - 13:30

The Forum provides an opportunity for operators to discuss scheme updates, share insights, and raise any concerns with the operators' representative (role shared jointly) and BCS representatives.

If you wish to attend, please register your interest and confirm your attendance by contacting Oliver Dunn at oliver@realschemes.org.uk.

If you are unable to attend but would like to raise an issue for discussion, please contact Jo Chapman at jo@acshropshire.co.uk or Tom Brown at tom.brown@stgreenpower.co.uk.

We look forward to your participation and valued contributions to these important discussions.
